Paid users are more active (listen to more music) than free.
Offer users a referral marketing option, so they can get a free trial of the paid tier by referring new users.
Recommendations
We should analyze user retention in these genres, and consider how we can maximize it.
Consider intermediate tiers between free and paid, to make it easier to convert users from free to paid.
Paid users are very valuable, so it is worth offering time-limited promotions and other deals to convert
